COLONEL MAKES A STATEMENT

Document Is Read on Floor at Session
by Henry J. Allen, Delegate at Large From Kansas, and Was a Severe Arraignment of Action of the Majority—Many Delegates Refrain From Taking Active Part in the Final Session of the National Meeting—Vice-Presidential Nominee Named Without Demonstration—Convention Adjourned Since Die at 10:30 O'clock.

Chicago, June 24.—William Howard Taft for a second time was made the presidential nominee of the Republican party in a riotous conclusion of the party's national convention. The nomination of Mr. Taft was made by Warren G. Harding of Ohio in a lengthy address.

James Schoolcraft Sherman once more was selected as his running mate, receiving 597 votes.

The vice-presidency went begging.
There was a general understanding that Mr. Sherman would not stand in the way of the selection of some other candidate for second place on the ticket. The leaders who have been in control of the 1912 national convention wanted a western progressive on the ticket with President Taft. They were unable to find one who would consent to the presentation of his name.

The second place nomination was offered to Governor Deneen of Illinois, to Governor Hadley of Missouri and to Senator Borah of Idaho. When it became apparent that the timber available afforded no chance of a selection the friends of Mr. Sherman announced his willingness to make a try for election.

In spite of the determination of the majority of the Roosevelt supporters to take no part in the proceedings, the final roll call for president was marked by many violent scenes that were quelled only by prompt police interference.

Roosevelt Men Split.
The Roosevelt men seemed hopelessly split when it came to a final decision as to whether they should refuse to vote, support their candidate or, taking advantage of the release from their pledges he had given them, vote for one of the other two progressive candidates.

A "valedictory" statement was read in behalf of Colonel Roosevelt, asking that his name be not presented and that the delegates who desired to remain with him sit in mute protest against all further proceedings.

A great majority of the Roosevelt delegates in the Illinois delegation and all in the Missouri and Idaho delegations declined to follow this advice, but Colonel Roosevelt's sway over the delegations from California, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and West Virginia was all but absolute.

West Virginia announced that the state's 16 delegates were not voting.
This brought cheers from the Roosevelt supporters. Wisconsin's 26 votes went to La Follette, Wyoming gave Taft six, Alaska and the District of Columbia each cast two for Taft and Hawaii cast six for the president. The Philippines and Porto Rico finished the roll, each giving Taft two votes.

Result of Roll Call.
The announced result of the roll call was:
Absent, 5; Hughes, 2; Cummins, 17; La Follette, 41; Roosevelt, 107;
not voting, 345; Taft, 561.

The delegates had kept tab on the voting and realized Taft had won the nomination before an announcement was made. The Taft delegates stood on chairs and cheered wildly.

Immediately upon the formal announcement by Senator Root of the nomination of President Taft the roll call for nominations for vice-president was announced.

Before it began, however, delegates and spectators stood while the band played "America," and the "Star Spangled Banner."

With much difficulty sufficient quiet was restored to hear the chairman's announcement.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY AT CASTLE ROCK

MAN WAS FOUND DEAD IN LIT-TLE CABIN BY THE ROADSIDE.

STEVE ANDERSON; LONELY WOODCHOPPER

Lester Reese Stopped at Cabin on Way to Oregon and Found Him Dead on His Bed Sunday Morning
—Was Oregon Character—Inquest Was Held—Heart Failure Given as Cause.

At a spot a few hundred feet from where Mrs. Charles Sweet was burned to death at Castle Rock a few days ago, another tragedy was enacted some time during Saturday night, for when a milk hauler was passing the place early Sunday morning he found a man dead in a little lonely hut by the roadside.

Stephen, or "Steve" Anderson, whose home was in Oregon, but who had been living in an old tumbledown shack of boards and canvass on the south slope of Castle Rock for a number of years, was the victim, probably of heart disease.

Lester Reese, who hauls milk from Grand Detour and thereabouts, to Oregon by way of the River road, found the man dead in his bed as he stopped in to see him while on his way to Oregon Sunday morning. Mr.
Reese had given Anderson a ride on his wagon to Oregon and back on Saturday, the day before, and when he let him off at his cabin Saturday evening, he promised to stop and leave some milk for him the next morning. Anderson had complained of not feeling well all day Saturday, and when Reese stopped his wagon
at Anderson's place and called, he received no response. He then jumped from his wagon and ran over to the cabin, and after knocking on the door and receiving no answer he opened the door of his cabin and walked in. He saw the form of Anderson lying on the bed, and thinking him asleep, bent over to shake him. Mr.
Reese said then that as soon as he saw the man's face he knew he was dead.

Mr. Reese went to Oregon and notified the authorities there. An inquest was held yesterday afternoon.
Steve Anderson was about fifty-six years old, was a very large, strong man and was considerable of a character around Oregon, where he had lived all his life and was very well known. He was a rather hard drinker and this was probably one cause of his death. A gallin jug, partly filled with whisky was found beside him in the hut. Everyone who knew Steve Anderson, however, liked him. He was harmless and good-natured, and had many friends. His occupation was wood-chopping, which work he carried on in the vicinity of his cabin at Castle Rock, winter and summer.

DANCING PARTY AT ILLINI HALL

GRAND DETOUR WILL OBSERVE
JULY FOURTH WITH PATRIOT-IC DANCE IN THE EVENING—
DR. HEWITT TO HAVE CHARGE

July 4th will be appropriately observed at the Grand Detour with a patriotic dancing party at Illini hall, in the evening.

Dr. Ashley M. Hewitt of Chicago, who has charge of the affair and who owns Illini hall, has spared no pains to make this event a notable one. Souvenirs will be given to all the ladies.

A number of improvements have been made at the hall and one that was needed is a new dancing floor, the surface of which is now smooth as plate glass. Nothing has been spared in either time or money in making this floor perfect as it is possible for the best workmen to turn out. A new fence and ornamental gateway has been placed around the building. The fence is painted a light green. Two large green lights have been placed in the ornamental posts at each side of the gateway which gives the place a very imposing appearance.

The annex has been redecorated
and the pavilion will be improved.
A number of lawn swings have been added.

Dr. Hewitt deserves much praise for his efforts to give the people of Grand Detour and the tourists a place of amusement where they can enjoy dancing, concerts and other amusements.

The program for the month of July is published in this issue on page two, and one can see at a glance that the people of Grand Detour and vicinity and the tourists have a treat in store for the coming month.

LIGHTNING DESTROYED BARN.

Through misinformation given to this paper by a Woosung man, the Telegraph stated in Saturday night's issue that the fire which destroyed
F. A. Wiegand's barn and automobile shed Thursday evening was caused by an explosion of gasoline from a torch. This paper learns that the fire was caused by lightning, which struck the barn while Mr. Wiegand and family were at supper.

HUBER GOES TO STERLING.

ently and well for the Dixon Stars,
has been signed by the Sterling West and he will pitch his first game with the Sterling team Sunday. He will rotate with Cassell, the big right hander, who has worked in Dixon several times.

SIXTEEN BODIES RECOVERED FROM NIAGARA

Remains of Sixteen Victims of Collapsing Dock at Eagle Rock When One Hundred Were Thrown Into Torrent.

Washington, D. C., June 24.—Special to Telegraph—Justice Wright of the District supreme court today found Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and Joan Mitchell of the American Federation of Labor, to be in contempt of court for violating the injunction issued some time ago against the boycott in the Buck Stove and Range case and gave two of them jail sentences. The third will probably be given a sentence soon.

Samuel Gompers was given a sentence of 12 months in jail; Frank Morrison got six months and Mitchell was not sentenced because of his absence from court.

Many Bodies Recovered.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 24.—Sixteen bodies were recovered today from the Niagara river below Eagle Rock. The bodies are those of some of the victims of the collapsing of the dock last night when 100 persons were plunged into the whirling waters,
most of them to their death.

TROUBADOURS AMUSEMENT CO.,
AN ESPECIALLY HIGH CLASS
CO.—DANCE WILL FOLLOW.

The entertainment committee of the Dixon lodge B. P. O. E. has arranged an exceptionally fine entertainment for the members and families at their club rooms Thursday evening, to be given by the Trouba-dours Amusement company, one of the highest class companies of its kind traveling out of Chicago.

The Troubadours, assisted by a well known reader, will give one of their popular concerts, following which, to meet the demand of the members, the committee has arranged for the company to furnish music for a dance. This additional feature, the dance, has made it necessary for the committee to charge a small admission fee.

The Troubadours for a number of years have been in great demand for chautauqua and lyceum entertainments and it was by chance that the local lodge was able to secure them on an open night. Doubtless the entertainment will be attended by every member of the lodge who can arrange to be present.

MOTIVE IS UNSELFISH, HE SAYS

Tentative Acceptance of Tendered Honor Must Not Stand in Way of Any Other Man Who Might Later
Be Picked in His Place—Governor Johnson of California Acts as Chairman of Meeting and Appointed Notification Committee—Its Members Represent Twenty-one States
—Full Text of Resolution Naming Colonel.

Chicago, June 24.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's new party was born at Orchestra Hall.

Hardly had the cheers which greeted the nomination of President Taft in the Coliseum, a few blocks away, died away when, in Orchestra Hall, Republican leaders offered Roosevelt
a nomination of his own.

It was tendered him in the name of the "Republican voters," who, resolutions prepared in advance declared, had selected him as their choice for president.

As promptly as the nomination was tendered Colonel Roosevelt was as prompt in his readiness to accept it.

The appearance of Colonel Roosevelt upon the platform, after midnight, was the signal for a great demonstration.

The great pipe organ had been playing "America" when he dramatically entered the hall.

In a minute all was tumult.

Vast Audience Cheers.

Cheer after cheer went up.
Rats were tossed wildly into the air, women threw their gloves and fans after them.

Men beat each other upon the back.
Order was finally restored, and then the convention got under way as if it were in fact the regular one of the Republican party.

The name of Colonel Roosevelt was presented by William A. Prendergast of New York, regular delegate to the Republican national convention.

On the original Roosevelt program
he had been put down for the address which was to put the name of the colonel before the convention. The speech never had been delivered in the regular convention, and it served for the informal one at Orchestra hall.

Dean William Draper Lewis of the University of Pennsylvania, who was to have seconded Roosevelt in the regular convention, used the speech which he was to have made at the Coliseum at Orchestra hall.

Other addresses which had been planned for the ears of the delegates of the convention were made to the crowd in Orchestra hall.

But, eagerly as the audience drank in the words of the speakers, they were waiting for the colonel himself.

Speech After Resolutions.

His speech was made after the convention had adopted with unanimity resolutions which had been prepared in advance at a conference in which he had been present.

Colonel Roosevelt's speech began when he said he recognized the Orchestra hall meeting as "the lawfully elected delegates to the Republican convention." He announced his acceptance.

One condition was attached to his acceptance.

He demanded that the delegates who tendered him the nomination go "back to the people," get their sentiment and gather again to nominate a "progressive candidate on a progressive platform."

Colonel Roosevelt made it clear that he did not want his tentative acceptance of the nomination offered him to stand aside if the delegates deemed it better that he should after getting the mandate from the voters back home.

He also declared that he wanted to be able to appeal "to northerner and southerner, easterner and westerner, Republican and Democrat alike, in the name of American citizenship."

In a tumult of enthusiasm the address ended.

Sign in the window of a First St. drug store "We do Amateur Finish-ing." Some frank admission, that.

Ye Ed pined and pined at the Pines yesterday, and the only "goak" we could think of during all that pining was the one hidden in this item.

A Dixon young lady while riding in the dark with her beau last evening was kissed repeatedly, and says she hoped at the time never to "see" his face again.

Cherries are now being gathered—by the birds.

A neighbor has a dog which keeps Ye Ed awake nights—in common with the rest of the sufferers in the vicinity. If he really wishes to know how to keep the pest quiet we'd suggest that he keep the dog under water from sunset to sunrise.

Josephus Allen is the original discoverer of many secrets. He has just discovered a way of learning whether a rose bush is growing or not. He pulls the bush up by the roots. If it comes easily it's a cinch it's not growing well, while if the pulling requires some effort it is manifestly evident the bush is well rooted and growing well.

The center of the universe will now kindly move from Chicago to Baltimore.

Wherein it will be wise to remember that the Telegraph will have its own special wire right into the convention hall. And it's also probable that Billy Bryan will be sitting near the other end of the wire. So those who want to get close to Bryan can do so through the Telegraph.

The Drawback.
An awful thing happened to Ye Ed this a. m. We met a woman we used to know and she was wheeling a very pretty little baby. Naturally, it was up to us to look at the kid and praise it. Which we did like this:

"That's certainly a fine, bright-looking baby. You certainly must bring him up to be a successful and resourceful man."

"Yes," replied the mother. "But I'm afraid that will be too hard a task."

"What?" said we. "You mustn't give up."

"I know it," she answered. "But the trouble is the baby is a girl."

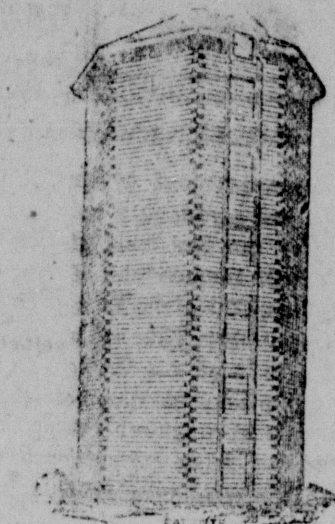

A well known farmer living near here took his small son to a circus last year. When they got to the animal tent and were walking around among the animals, they came to the elephant. The youngster yelled "Oh, Daddy, look at the big cow with her horns in her mouth, eating hay with her tail."

Gets Corns on Ears.

Mount Clemens, Mich.—There is a merry war on in the local telephone exchange. On one side are thirty sweet-voiced operators with a medium-sized district manager as their opponent.

The operators are compelled to wear a headband contrivance while on duty, and the claim of the girls is that the contrivance causes corns to form upon their ears. They declare that if the manager does not provide another sort of appliance for holding the receivers they will leave the office.

Common Sense Silo

The Silo Question Solved.

Walls are four inches thick and absolutely airtight. They are substantial and cannot collapse or blow down. There are no hoops or bands requiring constant readjustment. The height not being fixed, it can be added to from year to year, as the herd increases, and meet the demand for increased storage capacity.

assembly of the meeting the streets in the neighborhood were jammed with people.

Inside, the galleries and the seats not reserved for the delegates who were still busy at the Coliseum were filled almost instantly.

Dense squads of police lined the walls and were present to keep order and control the great throngs.

The crowds outside and those who were inside were ready for a spontaneous demonstration.

The first steps in the organization of the new party were taken when a committee was named to notify the colonel and take care of other work in connection with the organization of the new party.

Of National Prominence.

Governor Johnson of California, who named it, put upon it leaders of national prominence. It represented twenty-one states. The committee consisted of:

Comptroller W. A. Prendergast of New York, Meyer Lissner of California, former Congressman Richmond Pearson of North Carolina, Frank Knox of Michigan, Matthew Hale of Massachusetts, A. R. Garford of Ohio, David Browning of Kentucky, Everard Bieber, Jr., of Utah; Walter Thompson of Vermont, Judge Oscar R. Hundley of Alabama, Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Colorado, Andrew Rahn of Minnesota, Judge Stevens of Iowa, Judge Lowder of North Dakota, William Allen White of Kansas, John C. Greenway of Arizona, ex-Governor John Franklin Fort of New Jersey, Colonel E. C. Carrington of Maryland, Pearl Wight of Louisiana, Lorenzo Dow of Washington, Walter Clyde Jones of Illinois, Frank Frantz of Oklahoma.

Details Not Attempted.

All the details of the organization were not attempted.

Some had already been arranged for before the meeting.

At this gathering it was decided that the new political party should attempt to seize possession of the regular party machinery in the states in which it was in control.

Just before Governor Johnson called the meeting to order the crowd sang patriotic songs and imitated a steam roller.

When news of the nomination of President Taft reached the hall all the Roosevelt leaders seemed pleased. The information that Vice-President Sherman had been renominated appeared to add to their delight.

Governor Johnson and Gifford Pinchot shook hands, and both turned to Frank A. Munsey, who had just arrived with the news, and patted him on the back.

The delegates from the Coliseum convention arrived in a body and marched into the hall, headed by Senator Clapp of Minnesota and the Minnesota delegation, which joined the California delegation on the stage.

Governor in the Lead.

The New Jersey delegation from the convention followed Minnesota to the stage, headed by former Governor Fort. Another outburst greeted the delegation, whose leader waved aloft the "New Jersey" sign from the convention floor.

"Here comes Texas!" shouted some one, as Cecil Lyon, defeated Texas leader in the Republican convention, made his way down the aisle with National Committeeman Sidney Bieber of the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. Ethel, Kermit and Archie Roosevelt arrived early and occupied a box near the stage.

When the Roosevelt family appeared Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Longworth waved and smiled a welcome in recognition of the cheers.

While this demonstration was going on, some of the Ohio delegation arrived and received a tumultuous welcome.

Mississippi Men Arrive.

Mississippi Roosevelt delegates entered the hall, fresh from a meeting in their headquarters, and announced the election of S. D. Redmond of Jackson as the first national committeeman of the new party.

Massachusetts delegates, with their cry, "Massachusetts, Roosevelt, eight; first, last and all the time!" next arrived.

When George A. Perkins started to mount the "companionway" to the stage, a policeman stopped him and he had difficulty in explaining his right to a stage seat.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who witnessed the encounter, was observed to laugh heartily.

When the hall had been packed the entire audience arose and joined in singing "America," after which the Roosevelt delegates greeted Governor Johnson as he opened the formal part of the meeting.

Governor Johnson described the campaign of Colonel Roosevelt against the bosses and declared that the delegates assembled proposed "to see that Mr. Roosevelt gets his reward."

Resolutions Are Read.

He then introduced Senator Clapp of Minnesota, who read the resolution nominating Colonel Roosevelt. It was adopted with a cheer.

Mr. Prendergast then made the nominating speech.

During the cheering that followed the Pennsylvania delegates arrived and were loudly greeted.

Dean Lewis followed Mr. Prendergast, according to the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt.

Colonel Roosevelt was escorted to the hall by the notification committee, accompanied by Senator Dixon and Governor Stubbs of Kansas.

As the colonel entered the hall there was a storm of applause. The people leaped to their feet with a shout, and for five minutes there was pandemonium.

Colonel Roosevelt mounted the platform and waved his hands, smiling with delight at the reception.

When he said he would accept the nomination there was another frenzied demonstration.

The colonel expressed his gratification to the delegates who stood by him.

Governor Johnson then dismissed the meeting.

TOO MANY LABORERS THERE

No More Needed in Western Part of Canada, Says a United States Consul.

Vancouver, B. C.—While it is true that with the approach of spring there are fewer unemployed in British Columbia than a few months ago, it can hardly be denied that there are more than sufficient laborers in this province at present for any demand likely to arise in the course of the year, David T. Wilber reports from Vancouver.

The immigration of laborers from the United States to Canada should be discouraged until further developments have greatly changed the labor situation here. Immigrants from the United States are bound to be disappointed because of the lower wages, higher cost of living and the great uncertainty of obtaining employment. They should in no case come without sufficient means to keep them for some time in case they cannot obtain employment and to take them back to the United States if finally unsuccessful. However, larger numbers have been attracted to British Columbia than can possibly obtain work, although the province is developing rapidly. Hardly a day has passed during this winter when the situation of the unemployed in Vancouver has not been brought repeatedly to my attention by destitute Americans seeking assistance to get home. No less than 2,000 Americans have permanently returned from Vancouver alone since November 1.

It should also be added that the laws against vagrancy are very strict and rigidly enforced in Vancouver.

TALT AND SHERMAN RENOMINATED

Sherman is renominated.

Alabama yielded to New York and J. Van Vechten Allcott took the platform to renominate Vice-President Sherman.

Mr. Allcott's speech did not last three minutes and it was received without any demonstration. Harry Daugherty of Ohio merely moved a second to Mr. Sherman's nomination.

The call of states went on without further nominations until Pennsylvania was reached. Then C. Tyson Kratz rose in his place.

On behalf of Pennsylvania I nominate Boies Penrose," he shouted. There was no second.

There were no other nominations and the call of the roll on the vice-presidential nomination was begun at 9:45 p. m.

Idaho was the first state that failed to support Sherman. Its eight votes went to Governor Hadley of Missouri.

Delegates Start Out.

While the roll call was in progress the spectators and many of the delegates, taking Sherman's nomination for granted, crowded into the aisles and started for the exits. In the noise of their moving out it was not possible to hear the roll call and Root pounded in vain for order.

When the roll was called on Illinois R. R. McCormick voted for Howard Gillette, a Chicago banker.

"Just a matter of friendship," said Mr. McCormick when asked why Mr. Gillette was. "He's a friend of mine."

"I told him if Taft was nominated I'd vote for him for vice-president."

The official result of the vote was:

Sherman ..... 597
Trotter ..... 21
Merriam ..... 20
Hadley ..... 14
Beveridge ..... 2
Gillette ..... 1
Absent ..... 71
Present but not voting ..... 352

The convention adjourned at 10:30 o'clock sine die.

Rushed to Victory.

From the very opening of the convention it was apparent that the Roosevelt men had given up the struggle against their opponents. They had reached a point where they could laugh at their own misfortunes, which they did to the great enjoyment of the entire convention.

But it was not until the last contested Taft delegate had been seated that the Roosevelt faction officially announced that it was through. The announcement took the form of a statement from Colonel Roosevelt, read to the convention by Henry Allen of Kansas.

Demonstration for Colonel.

This was followed by a speech from Mr. White arraigning the opposition and upholding Roosevelt. The mention of the colonel's name ignited a fire of enthusiasm among the Roosevelt men that set the whole crowd by the ears. It had lasted just twenty-one minutes when Chairman Root decided that too much time was being lost. So he used his gavel assistant, Assistant Chief of Police Schuetzler, with such good effect that the shouting was stopped.

The only mishap of the day was the loss of about a quart of blood by "Billy" Cooke, a Taft member of the Illinois delegation. When the Roosevelt demonstration started North Carolina men sought to appropriate the standard of the Illinois delegation.

The standard which they sought was at the side of Governor Deeney's chair. E. J. Hawbaker, an overwrought Illinois man, joined the North Carolinians in their assault. Mr. Cooke rushed to the assistance of Governor Deeney and received a bloody nose for his trouble.

Hilles to Direct Campaign.

Charles D. Hilles, secretary to President Taft, was today chosen chairman of the Republican national committee. His selection took place at a meeting at ten o'clock at the Coliseum. The committee will also select a secretary and other executive officers and arrange in outline at least, for the beginning of active campaign work.

Taft Is Congratulated.

Washington, June 24.—President Taft went to church and spent the remainder of the day reading and replying to the deluge of messages received at the White House congratulating him upon his nomination at Chicago. They came from everywhere, from political leaders great and small, plain citizens and folk in most all walks of life who had kind things to say. With the assistance of secretaries Mr. Taft got well through the pile by night.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

Father McMahon, pastor of the Catholic church of Our Lady of Lourdes, New York, on May 31 preached a powerful sermon in his church on equal pay and in favor of woman suffrage. In the course of his remarks Father McMahon said "The church has always stood for the betterment of women. As early as the 14th century women voted on equal terms with men, and there is nothing unwomanly or immodest in it now. Any one reading opposition to the franchise for women in the doctrines of the church is not well informed in regard to them."

Dr. Brown, chancellor of New York University, addressing the graduating class of a prominent school for girls, a few days ago, expressed himself strongly in favor of woman suffrage, saying it was a necessity because of impending social revolutions.

FARMERS ARE BEHIND
IN SPRING WORK

Farmers state that the spring has been very backward for corn planting, yet the oat fields and the pastures are in excellent condition. In other years corn planting was completed long before it was this year. Many farmers have much plowing yet to do. They are getting quite anxious about the backward condition of the weather.

THE WOMAN WHO HAS A TEMPER

A woman with an ungovernable temper usually is unreasonable. If everything does not go just to please her, she flies off on a tantrum. Woe to those who happen to be near her at the time. She uses no judgment. She will hold one day for what she condoned the day before. Her children are undisciplined, for there is no method in her training. One day they are allowed to do a certain act, but if they attempt to repeat it the next day they are met with a storm of temper.

"Mother's on a tear today," and they try to keep out of sight until the storm passes.

These temper exhibitions unfit the woman for regular or competent work. After an outburst she cannot accomplish as much as she could otherwise. Her energy has been dissipated with no beneficial results. Her mind has been upset, her thoughts scattered, and she is unable to concentrate her attention on the necessary points. It requires some time for her to calm herself and regain control of her mind. Every repetition of the temper explosions further incapacitates her for prolonged mental effort, just as numerous explosions of an auto tire make it useless. The first few may be repaired, but later it would be folly to attempt it or to trust it for a long trip. Work requiring great mental concentration can be accomplished only by the smoothly running mind, not by one easily upset.

An ungovernable temper is the very worst foe of married content or of a peaceful home life. When the temper is lost all the virtues seem to follow. You can never tell what an angry woman will say or do. Her husband comes home at night tired and looking forward to an evening of peace and quiet, but is met at the very threshold with a storm—and peace has flown for the evening. A few such storms and the husband does not try to find a peaceful evening at home, but goes from the office to the club, preferring to spend the evening with congenial friends who, perhaps, also have been driven from home by a temper without a break.

The husband of the woman with an ungovernable temper must, as well give up all hope of entertaining his friends when he enters matrimony. There is no pleasure in inviting friends to your home to hear an exhibition of temper or, perhaps, to be insulted by the flow of words directed toward them; for the woman, when she loses her temper, vents it on anyone who is near.

Children cannot respect a mother who loses her temper. One great secret in the government of children is consistency, and the woman who loses her temper is changeable. She is inclined to violent punishment one day, offset by a laxity the next day. The children will "trust to luck"

if they see a chance to follow a desired course of action. Their offense may be punished, but it is just as likely to be condoned. Violent punishments followed by remorse often are in order under the reign of terror. Such a course of action disqualifies a woman as a guide for others, especially children. A woman who can not have control of her temper is not fit to have control of others!—Dr. Edith B. Lowry in Woman's World of June.

HO FOR MAMMOTH CAVE!

"I'd like to have a lot of Dixonites see this excavation."

"Well, if you bring a party of your friends down here we'll be glad to meet them and give them the best there is in the shop."

The above colloquy took place in the office of the Mammoth Cave Hotel. On my arrival home a number of friends asked me about the desirability and cost of a pleasure trip to Mammoth Cave. I mentioned the possibility of an excursion party. They said at once: "Get up a party and count me in."

A world of weirdness and mystery lies almost at our doors, inviting our wonder and admiration. A glimpse at the famous Kentucky Knobs is worth a part of the cost of the trip. To the visitor who knows that these knobs are a part of the story of the greatest cavern in the world, they are doubly interesting.

There are many other things that afford delight while loitering around the country—old hotel; first, genial Kentucky hospitality, older than the old hotel itself; the trips in the cave, whenever and wherever you will; the lazy lounging between trips in the sun-flecked shade of the front yard, cave-suit sociability on the broad veranda; a stroll down the long, forest-lined path to Green river; here one may see the steamboat arrive or depart; the imitable stories of the old South by our genial host, H. C. Carter, if you can get him started. (See that he does not omit the one of the strong old darkey tossing a horse over the fence.)

But the attractions of this real "joy ride" are too numerous to mention. A delightful way to visit Mammoth Cave is to go by ways of Evansville, Ind., thence up Green River on the steamboat, almost to the mouth of the cave and the hotel steps. Returning, we ride on a toy railway around Eden Valley, a sinkhole comprising 2,000 acres; we catch a glimpse of the famous Kentucky Knobs; we pass through a tunnel, wherein certain osculations among the young are not permitted in Kentucky, nor fault found with the old for like absent-mindedness. Louisville is well worthy a visit, and, in Indiana we pass through the Bedford stone region.

Details of expense will be given in advance if there is a prospect of a party being organized. Roughly speaking, I think the regular railroad fare for the round trip is $18. A representative of the Louisville and Nashville railroad has offered to come out from Chicago to assist and give detailed information and furnish lowest possible rates on condition that there is prospect of a party. I can procure lowest rates at the cave for hotel accommodations, guide fees, etc. The regular rates at the cave are reasonable. And I wish my friends to get the benefit of all reduction, and there is "nothing in it" for me. I ask those interested to drop me a card, or call up telephone No. 39200. If Dixon takes the lead, the matter may be presented to neighboring towns. In cases of very large parties, these are divided into smaller ones while in the cave, each having its guide.

Those wishing to investigate further will please report as soon as possible. A party will not be formed until detailed information is furnished to a sufficient number to promise success.

SEARCHLIGHT ON THE SKY.

Mrs. E. A. Bishop of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I should like to have the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound thrown on the sky with a searchlight, so that all suffering women could read and be convinced that there is a remedy for their ills. For years I was a great sufferer from organic female troubles and had despaired of ever being well again, but found relief in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I tried as a last resort."

For nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills.

ROCK FALLS VICTIM
OF STEAM ROLLERDIXON HAD COMPLETE CONTROL OF CONVENTION HELD AT ATHLETIC PARK.CHAIRMAN HUBER WAS A STERN RULER

He Turned Down Nearly Every Motion Made by Poor Rock Falls Delegates—Twelve Seated for Dixon, Two for Rock Falls—Cardinals Receive Scandalous Trouncing at Arlington.

Clark Huber wielded the gavel with his mighty left arm yesterday afternoon, when the Dixon Stars and Rock Falls Independents met in convention at Athletic park, and the aforesaid wedding was most effective, for Chairman Huber controlled the convention at all times and when the insurgent Rock Falls members became obstreperous he started the steam roller with absolutely no compassion. Only twice during the two hours the convention was in session did the chairman—meaning, of course, young Mr. Huber—allow the insurgents any leeway, and then only to save a bolt.

Once in the fifth inning, when the R. F. delegates, disheartened and disgusted with the steady, irresistible movements of the steam roller, began to show signs of learning the convention, he allowed one of their motions, and they scored—once only. And again in the seventh he did the same thing. Thereafter he ruled with autocratic power and when adjournment was taken, after 120 minutes of deliberation, 12 Dixon delegates had been seated to 2 for the R. F. party.

Huber Named by Whitebread. When the populace had assembled and it was evident that the steam roller forces could control the meeting with the proper chairman, Bos Whitebread of the administration forces, held a conference with himself, as the result of which he nominated Hon. Clark Huber for temporary chairman. And after the first motions were put and overruled by Mr. Huber, Bos Whitebread made the temporary organization permanent.

The insurgents started off almost nobly. Higgins made a motion that he be allowed the seat at first base. Huber denied said motion, causing Higgins to wave his arms and the bat wildly about through the air 3 consecutive times. Forada tried the same gag, but the chair was wise to the game, and Forada did the same as Higgins. At this stage of the session while Huber was overruling Smith, Secretary Joe Keenan lost his roll call, or something, for contrary to expectations Smith got to first, ready for the permanent roll call. He stayed there, however, for Pyre waved his arms in the air like until his leaders, Higgins and Forada.

Dixon Seats One. One Dixon delegate was seated at this stage of the game. Burke took advantage of a mistake on the part of Metcalf, leader of the insurgents, singling cleanly into the galleries. C. Keenan could not get his motion into proper swing, whiffing. Hunter also forgot his cues and almost stopped Burke, going to the cleaners Burgess to Higgins. But J. Keenan, wielder of the big stick, pushed himself into the proceedings at this point and like wise pushed a two-sacker effectively. Burke was seated on the permanent roll as a result of that swat.

Details Not Necessary. The details of the subsequent motions are not necessary. By perfect control of his machine Huber overruled motion after motion, while the administration forces kept up their administering, the result at the end showing 12 Dixon delegates seated for permanent roll call against 2 insurgents. Convention Sidelights. Huber certainly had Burgess and Metcalf's numbers. He fanned the former on each of his four trips to the plate, and Metcalf succumbed on strikes three time, the only opportunity he had to swat the pill.

Aside from Huber's pitching Joe Keenan's stick work was easily the feature. The binging kid rapped safely three times for a total of six bags.

Huber held the enemy helpless for the first four innings, when, with his teammates eight runs to the good he eased up a little and allowed the lads from the city across the river from Sterling to know they were in the game.

ARLINGTON, 14; CARDINALS, 0. The Dixon Cardinals were unmercifully trounced in their game at Arlington yesterday, the shades of evening falling on the field of carnage with the score 14 to 0 against them. Further comment is unnecessary. The boys made the trip to Arlington in three automobiles, driven by Ira Lowe, Lloyd Berger and Harry Huffman.

STERLING 12, DIXON 1.

The Dixon Browns suffered a discouraging defeat at Sterling yesterday when the West Ends of that city put the rollers under them, score 12 to 1. Blass started to pitch for Dixon but his support was pathetic and in the fifth he gave way to Lightner. Both twirlers worked well in the face of the amateurish support given them. The Browns go to Forreston next Sunday.

COLLEGE IS COMPLIMENT TO INSTRUCTORS.

A large audience witnessed the graduating exercises of the pupils in music at the Dixon College last Friday evening. The pupils graduated in music under the supervision of Prof. and Mrs. Will H. Smith. There were four graduates: Esther Eckerd, classical course; Roxana Martney, Della Aschenbrenner, Gertrude Nesbit, normal course.

The chapel at the college where the exercises were held was beautifully decorated in the class colors, green and white, and many people from Polo, Oregon, etc., were present.

The College orchestra gave several fine selections, some from Tannhauser and "The Poet and Peasant."

Miss Philippa Starin gave a most entertaining reading and Madame Kent gave "Habanera" from the opera of Carmen with much skill and sweetness and with the finish of a professional. The exercises were highly enjoyed and Prof. and Mrs. Smith are to be congratulated on their success in the musical department of the college, which is marked.

ELGIN WOMAN SUCUMB
TO RARE DISEASE

Mrs. Abel Hare died at Sherman hospital on Monday, her legs and arms being practically petrified, the result of months of suffering from raynaud's, a rare disease, the manifestations of which baffled the entire medical fraternity of Elgin. Black spots first appeared on her fingers. Gradually the hand turned black and hard. The same spots appeared on her feet and soon her feet and legs were petrified. She was perfectly insensible to pain.

MAYOR DELCARES WAR
ON FAST DRIVES

MAYOR BRINTON ORDERS POLICE TO ARREST ALL OFFENDERS OF SPEED LAW AND SAYS HE WILL SEE THAT THEY ARE ASSESSED THE LIMIT.

Mayor W. B. Brinton has come out flat-footed against the malpractice of automobile drivers who violate the speed laws, and this morning issued an ultimatum to the effect that the police have been ordered to arrest every auto driver of whom any complaint is made. And His Honor further states that he will see to it personally that the fine is not limited to the customary $3 and costs, but he will insist that the maximum fine be assessed. The practice, he says, has become exceedingly reckless in all parts of the city and he does not propose to wait until someone is hurt before he acts.

CHAPTER XVI.

The Humble Petition.

Billy, sitting in an old buggy in front of the livery stable, had just engaged in a long and interesting conversation with Sam Lamb. He was getting out of the vehicle when the sharp wire around the broken rod caught in the back of his trousers and tore a great hole. He felt a tingling pain and looked over his shoulder to investigate. Not being satisfied with the result, he turned his back to the negro and anxiously inquired: "Is my breeches tore, Sam?"

"Dey am dat," was the reply, "dey am busted f'm Dan ter Beersheba."

"What I gon' to do 'bout it?" asked the little boy. "Aunt Minerva sho' will be mad. These here's bran-spankin' new trousers what I ain't never wore tell today. Ain't you got a needle an' thread so's you can fix 'em, Sam?"

"Nary er needle," said Sam Lamb. "Is my union suit tore, too?" asked Billy again turning his back for inspection.

His friend made a close examination.

"Yo' unions is injured plum scarious," was his discouraging decision, "and hit 'pears ter me dat yo' hide done suffer, too; you's got er terrible scratch."

The child sighed. The injury to the flesh was of small importance—he could hide that from his aunt—but the rent in his trousers was a serious matter.

"I wish I could get 'em mended 'fore I goes home," he said wistfully.

"I tell you what do," suggested Sam, "I 'low, Miss Cecilia'll help yeh; jest go by her house an' she'll darn 'em up fer yeh."

Billy hesitated.

"Well, you see, Sam, me an' Miss Cecilia's engaged an' we's fixin' to marry jes' s' soon's I put on long pants, an' I 'shame' to ask her. An' I don't believe young 'omans patches the breeches of young mans what they's gon' to marry nohow. Do you? Aunt Minerva ain't never patched no breeches for the major. And then, with a modest blush, "my unions is tore, too, an' I ain't got on nothin' else to hide my skin."

Again he turned his back to his friend and, his clouded little face looking over his shoulder, he asked: "Do my meat show, Sam?"

"She am visibler ter the naked eye," and Sam Lamb laughed loudly at his own wit.

"I don't believe God pays me much attention nohow," said the little boy dolefully; "ev'ry day I gets put to bed 'cause sumpin's all time a-happenin'. If he'd had a eye on me like he oughter, they wouldn't a been no snaggin'." Aunt Minerva's goin' to be mad 'thoo an' 'thoo."

"May be my ol' 'oman can fix 'em, so's dey won't be so terrible bad," suggested the negro, "tain't fer, so you jes' run down ter my cabin an' tell Sukey I say fix dem breeches."

The child needed no second bidding—he fairly flew. Sam's wife was cooking, but she cheerfully stopped her work to help the little boy. She sewed up the union suit and put a bright blue patch on his brown linen breeches.

Billy felt a little more cheerful, though he still dreaded confessing to his aunt, and he loitered along the way till it was nearly dark. Supper was ready when he got home and he walked into the dining room with his customary ease and grace. But he took his seat uneasily, and he was so quiet during the meal and ate so little that his aunt asked him if he was sick. He was planning in his mind how to break the news of the day's disaster to her.

"You are improving, William," she remarked presently, "you haven't got into any mischief today. You have been a mighty good little boy now for two days."

Billy flushed at the compliment and shifted uneasily in his seat. That patch seemed to burn him.

"If God'd jest do his part," he said darkly, "I wouldn't never git in no meanness."

After supper Miss Minerva washed the dishes in the kitchen sink and Billy carried them back to the dining-room. His aunt caught him several times prancing sideways in the most idiotic manner. He was making a valiant effort to keep from exposing his rear elevation to her; once he had to walk backward.

"William," she said, sharply, "you will break my plates. What is the matter with you tonight?"

A little later they were sitting quietly in Miss Minerva's room. She was reading "The Christian at Home," and he was absently looking at a picture book.

"Sam Lamb's wife Sukey sho' is a beautiful patcher," he remarked, feeling his way.

She made no answering comment, and the discouraged little boy was silent for a few minutes. He had worn Aunt Cindy's many-colored patches too often to be ashamed of this one for himself, but he felt that he would like to draw his aunt out and find how she stood on the subject of patches.

"Aunt Minerva," he presently asked, then dropped her eyes to the paper where an interesting article on Foreign Missions held her attention.

"Aunt Minerva, I snagged—Aunt Minerva, I snagged my—my skin today."

"Let me see the place," she said, absently, her eyes glued to a paragraph describing a cannibal feast.

"I's a-settin' on it right now," he replied.

Another long silence ensued. Billy resolved to settle the matter.

"Is gettin' sleepy," he yawned.

"Aunt Minerva, I want to say my prayers and go to bed."

She laid her paper down and he dropped to his knees by her side. He usually sprawled all over her lap during his lengthy devotions, but tonight he clasped his little hands and reared back like a rabbit on its haunches.

After he had rapidly repeated the Lord's Prayer, which he had recently learned, and had invoked blessings on all his new friends and never-to-be-forgotten old ones, he concluded with:

"An', O Lord, you done kep' me f'm meddlin' with Aunt Minerva's hose any mo', an' you done kep' me f'm gittin' any mo' Easter eggs, an' playin' no mo' Injun, an' you done kep' me f'm lettin' Mr. Algernon Jones come ag'in, an' now, O Lord, please don't lemme worry the very zistence outer Aunt Minerva any mo' 'n you can help, like she said I done this mornin', an' please, if thy will be done, don't lemme tear the next new breeches what she'll gimme like I done ruin't these here what I got on."

CHAPTER XVII.

A Green-Eyed Billy.

"Have some candy?" said Miss Cecilia, offering a big box of bonbons to Billy, who was visiting her.

"Where'd you git 'em?" he asked, as he helped himself generously.

"Maurice sent them to me this mornin'."

Billy put all his candy back into the box.

"I don't believe I want none er yo' candy," he said, scowling darkly. "I reckon you likes him better 'n me any-how, don't you?"

"I love you dearly," she replied.

The child stood in front of her and looked her squarely in the eye. His little form was drawn to its full, proud height, his soft, fair cheeks were flushed, his big, beautiful gray eyes looked somber and sad.

"Is you in love with that red-headed Maurice Richmond, an' jes' a-foolin' o' me?" he asked with dignity.

A bright flush dyed crimson the young lady's pretty face.

She put her arm around the childish, graceful figure and drew the little boy to the sofa beside her.

"Now, honey, you mustn't be silly," she said, gently, "you are my own, dear, little sweetheart."

"An' I reckon he's yo' own, dear, big sweetheart," said the jealous Billy. "Well, all I got to say is this here: if he's agoin' to come to see you ev'ry day then I ain't never comin' no mo'."

He's been a-carryin' on his foolishness 'bout s' long as I can stand it. You got to choose 'tween us right this minute; he comes down here mo' ev'ry day, he's tuck you drivin' more'n fifty hundred times, an' he's give you all the candy you can stuff."

"He is not the only one who comes to see me," she said smiling down at him. "Jimmy comes often and Len Hamner and Will Reid. Don't you want them to come?"

"Don't nobody pay no 'tention to Jimmy," he replied contemptuously; "he ain't nothin' but a baby, an' them other mens can come if you wants 'em to; but," said Billy, with a lover's unerring intuition, "I ain't agoin' to stand for that long-legged, sorrel-top Maurice Richmond a-trottin' his great big carkiss down here ev'ry minute. I wish Aunt Minerva'd let me put on long pants tomorrer so's we could git married." He caught sight of a new ring sparkling on her finger.

"Who give you that ring?" he asked sharply.

"A little bird brought it to me," she said, trying to speak gayly and blushing again.

"A big red-headed peckerwood," said Billy savagely.

"Maurice loves you, too"—she hoped to conciliate him; "he says you are the brightest kid in town."

"Kid," was the scornful echo, "cause he's so big and tall, he's got to call me a kid. Well, he'd jes' a-wastin' hisself lovin' me; I don't like him an' I ain't agoin' to never like him, an' soon's I put on long pants he's got to get 'bout the worstes lickin' he ever did see."

"Say does you like him like you does me?" he asked presently, looking up at her with serious, unsmiling face.

She hid her embarrassment in a laugh.

"Don't be foolish, Billy," she replied. "I'll bet he's kissed you more'n fifty hundred times."

"There's Jimmy whistling for you," said Miss Cecilia. "How do you two boys make that peculiar whistle? I would recognize it anywhere."

"Is he ever kiss you yet?" asked the child.

"I heard that you and Jimmy whipped Ed Brown because he imitated your own particular whistle. Did you?"

"How many times is he kiss you?" asked Billy.

The young girl put her arm around him and tried to nestle his little body against her own.

"I'm too big, anyway, for your real sweetheart," she said. "Why, by the time you are large enough to marry I should be an old maid. You must have Frances or Lina for your sweetheart."

"An' let you have Maurice!" he sneered.

She stopped to lay her flushed cheek against his own.

"Honey," she softly said, "Maurice and I are going to be married soon; I love him very much and I want you to love him too."

He pushed her roughly from him.

"An' you jes' 'cived me all the time," he cried, "an' me a-lovin' you better'n anybody I ever see since I's born? An' you a Sunday-school teacher? I ain't never agoin' to trus' nobody no mo'. Good-by, Miss Cecilia."

She caught his hand and held it fast. "I want you and Jimmy to be my little pages at the wedding, and wear dear little white satin suits all trimmed with gold braid"—she tried to be enthusiastic and arouse his interest; "and Lina and Frances can be little flower-girls and we'll have such a beautiful wedding."

"Jimmy an' Lina an' Frances can be all the pages an' flower-girls an' brides an' grooms they wants to, but you can't rope me in," he scornfully replied. "It's done with you an' I ain't never gon' to have me mo' sweet-heart long 's I live."

CHAPTER XVIII.

Closer Than a Brother.

It was a bad, rainy day. Jimmy and Billy were playing in Sarah Jane's cabin, she, however, being in happy ignorance of the fact. Her large stays, worn to the preaching the night before, were hanging on the back of a chair.

"Ain't I glad I don't have to wear no corset when I puts on long pants?" remarked Billy, pointing to the article. "Ain't that a big one? It's twice s' big s' Aunt Minerva's."

"My mamma wears a big co'set, too," said Jimmy; "I like fat women's 'nother sight better 'n lean ones. Miss Minerva's 'bout the skinniest woman they is; when I get married I'm going to pick me out the fattest wife I can find, so when you set in her lap at night for her to rock you to sleep you'll have a soft place to put your head, while she sings to you."

"The major—he's mo'st plump enough for two," said Billy, taking down the stays and trying to hook them around him.

"It sho' is big," he said; "I believe it's big 'nough to go 'round both of us."

"Let's see if it ain't," was the other boy's ready suggestion.

He stood behind Billy and they put the stays around both little bodies, while, with much squeezing and giggling, Billy hooked them safely up the front. The boys got in front of Sarah Jane's one looking-glass and danced about laughing with glee.

"We're like the twines what was growed together like mamma read me 'bout," declared the younger child.

Presently they began to feel uncomfortable, especially Jimmy, whose fat, round little middle was tightly compressed.

"Here, unhook this thing, Billy, and let's take her off," he said. "I'm 'bout to pop open."

"All right," agreed his companion. He tugged and pulled, but could get only the top and bottom hooks unclasped; the middle ones refused to budge.

"I can't get these here hooks to come loose," Billy said.

Jimmy put his short, fat arms around him and tried his hand, but with no better success. The stays were such a snug fit that the hooks seemed glued.

"We sho' is in a fix," said Billy gloomily; "look like God all time lettin' us git in trouble."

"You think of more fool stunts to do," cried the other; "you all time want to get us hooked up in Sarah Jane's corset and you all time can't get nobody loose. What you want to get us hooked up in this thing for?"

"You done it yo'self," defended the boy in front with rising passion. "Squeeze in, Jimmy; we les' boun't she got a little white lamb a-settin' on he grab; an' de nex' husband' he did n't have nothin' much fo' to dis-guess him f'm de res' 'cep'in' he so slow an' she might nigh rack her brain off, twell she happen to think 'bout him bein' a Hardshell Baptist an' so powerful slow, so she jest got a little tarrapin an' sot it on him. Hit sho' am a pretty sight jes' to go in dat buryin' groun' an' look at 'em all, side by side; an' now she got Brudder Littlejohn to add to de res'. He de onliest one what's got er patch o' whiterkers so she gwine to put a little white cat on he' grab. Yes, Lord, ef any-think could pearten' a widda 'oman hit would be jes' to know dat yuh could go to de grabyard any time yuh want to an' look at dat han'some c'lection an' tell 'sactly which am which."

Sarah Jane stopped for breath and Billy hastened to inquire:

"Who else is dead, Sarah Jane?"

"Tain't nobody else dead, yit, as I knows on, but my two cousins is turrible low; one's got a hemmoge on de lung an' de yuther's got a congestin' on de brain, an' I 'lows dey 'll bofe drap off 'twix' now an' sunup tomorrer."

Her eyes rolled around and happened to light on her corset. She at once returned to her grievance.

"An' sposin' I had n't 'av' came in here when I did? I'd 'a' had to went to my own cousins' fun'el 'thout nare co'set. Y' all gotta go right to y' all's mamas an' Miss Minerva dis very minute. I low dey 'll settle yo' hashes. Don't y' all know dat Larroes ketch meddlers?"

Bloomington, June 24.—Every thirty-third degree Mason in Illinois, it is thought, will attend the state assembly of Scottish Rite bodies, known as the Council of Deliberation, which will be held in Bloomington June 28. This council is the highest degree of Scottish Rite in Illinois. There will be representatives from the lodges of Chicago, East St. Louis, Springfield, Quincy, Peoria, Danville and Freeport. The supreme council is composed of James B. McFarrell, Amos Pettibone and Leroy S. Goddard, all of Chicago; S. O. Spring of Peoria and D. D. Darrah of Bloomington. This will be the first meeting of the council outside of Chicago and is in recognition of Bloomington's new Masonic temple, which was recently dedicated.

Bahdits Flee After Shooting Men. Chicago, June 24.—Joseph Feriecki, a cafe owner at 1700 West Erie street, and one of his four patrons were wounded when four robbers entered the place and attempted to rob them. The robbers, after ordering the men to hold up their hands, became alarmed when one in the group at the bar moved and a half a dozen shots were fired by the intruders. The robbers, without waiting to learn the results of the shots, fled from the saloon. One of the bullets struck the top of Feriecki's nose and took a small piece of skin off of it, then broke the mirror at the back of the bar. George Cisczeon, 729 Keith street, one of the customers, was wounded in the right arm. Both he and Feriecki were given medical aid.

Marriage Seeks to Marry. Bloomington, June 24.—When Reuben Marriage of Hillery appeared before the county clerk and asked for a marriage license, the public officer asked the applicant to repeat his name. "Marriage," was the reply. "Yes, I understand what you want. It's your name that I'm after," said the clerk. The abashed man finally succeeded in convincing the clerk that his name was marriage and that he wished to be united in marriage. He gave the name of the bride as Pearl Ott, also of Hillery.

I had suffered for quite a long time from pains in my back and sides and they were particularly severe at night and early in the morning. ### EPWORTH LEAGUE IN MEETING

Dr. John F. Harmon, President of the McKendree College, Delivers Address at Opening of Session of Lebanon District.

Marissa, June 21.—The twenty-third annual session of the Lebanon District Epworth League of the Southern Illinois Conference opened in the First M. E. church here.

The district embraces about fifty leagues and is the largest in the Southern Illinois Conference.

The first session opened with devotional exercises, followed by an address by Dr. John F. Harmon, president of McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., who for many years was pastor of the First Church in East St. Louis.

Asks More School Funds. Springfield, June 21.—Illinois is far behind her sister states in her educational system.

This statement was made by Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, at the weekly meeting of the ways and means committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Hotel La Salle in Chicago.

"There are many leaks in the great wall that confines the school system," said Mr. Blair. "It requires legislative and administrative fingers to stop these leaks."

"The school system has not sufficient revenue to build proper school buildings or employ efficient teachers. Many of the teachers are incompetent to direct the activity and education of the pupils, but we cannot expect to get a first-class teacher on a second-class salary."

WHEN WALKING WITH LADIES

Nearly Every Country Has Its Own Ideas as to Place of Male Escort.

Almost every country has its own fashions for men who walk with ladies on the public streets. In America and in England we walk on the side of the lady that is nearer the street. Many years ago when the streets were not kept as clean as they are now, any person walking on the outer edge of the pavements was likely to get well splashed with mud and rainwater, and that is why the gentlemen took that side, so as to save the ladies' fine clothes.

In some countries it is considered better for the gentleman to keep nearer the middle of the pavement in order to preserve the lady from jostling of persons going in the opposite direction in a crowded street. When it is the rule for every one to keep to the right those who are on the left of the two passing streams are continually being bumped into.

In Germany the gentleman always keep on the same side of the lady, no matter which side of the street they may be on or which way they are going.

Red Bank, N. J., June 24.—An automobile, which, going at high speed, overturned and rolled over onto its wheels again crushed a woman to death and seriously injured four other persons on Riverside Drive here. The machine was the property of J. A. Haskell, president of the Du Pont Powder company. Those injured were his employees. Susie Reilly was on the front seat and was instantly killed.

BRYAN'S FRIENDS ASSERT COLONEL IS NOT CANDIDATE

Spokesman Says Nebraskan Declares He'll Not Seek Nomination.

GOV. WILSON UPHOLDS STAND

Sends His Aid to Fight on the Naming of Parker as Temporary Chairman of Convention—"Houn Dawg" Special Arrives.

Baltimore, Md., June 24.—When William J. Bryan alighted from an automobile at the entrance of the Belvidere he was greeted by a shout of welcome from 500 people. Mr. Bryan was accompanied by Mrs. Bryan, their daughter, Mrs. Hargrave, and the latter's husband.

Within a few minutes after he had been shown to his apartment Mr. Bryan began to receive visitors in small groups in an adjoining room. His first caller was P. L. Hall, the Nebraska member of the national committee. After a brief talk Committee-man Hall came out and repeated the assertion made earlier in the day that Mr. Bryan would not appear before the national committee at its meeting today on the proxy of the Nebraska member.

"Mr. Bryan's friends," said Committee-man Hall, "have concluded that they can conduct the contest he is making against the ratification by the full committee of the subcommittee's selection of Judge Alton B. Parker for temporary chairman of the convention better than he can himself."

Soon after Mr. Bryan's arrival here the managers of Woodrow Wilson's campaign sent word to the Champ Clark managers that the New Jersey man's following would gladly join the Missourians in supporting Senator Elect Ollie James of Kentucky for temporary chairman. It could not be learned at the Clark headquarters what action would be taken.

This message was sent to Judge Parker:

"What reply have you to make to Bryan's attack, and are you still a candidate for temporary chairman?"

The judge made this written response:

"I have not seen the attack you refer to, and in any event will have nothing to say now."

Bryan Right, Wilson Says. Governor Wilson of New Jersey telegraphed to William J. Bryan a ringing message that the Nebraskan was entirely within his rights in doing everything possible to effect the selection of a progressive for temporary chairman. The Wilson reply was as follows:

"You are right. Before hearing of your message I clearly stated my position in answer to a question from the Baltimore Evening Sun.

"The Baltimore convention is to be a convention of progressives, of men who are progressive in principle and by conviction. It must, if it is not to be put in a wrong light before the country, express its convictions in its organization and in its choice of the men who are to speak for it.

"You are to be a member of the convention and are entirely within your rights in doing everything within your power to bring that result about. No one will doubt where my sympathies lie and you will, I am sure, find my friends in the convention acting upon a clear conviction and always in the interest of the people's cause. I am happy in the confidence that they need no suggestion from me."

Dr. P. L. Hall, national committee-man from Nebraska, Colonel Bryan's personal friend and authorized spokesman, has in his possession a letter in which Colonel Bryan declares he is not a candidate and will not be a candidate for the presidency. Mr. Hall is unable to state, however, what Bryan will do should his leadership of the progressive opposition to reactionary tactics develop a demonstration in the convention culminating with a demand that he shall accept the nomination.

"Houn Dawg" Special In. Twenty-five special trains have arrived here from the south and southwest, the most notable of which was the "Houn Dawg" special from Missouri. It is unnecessary to remark that they made things bark upon the arrival.

Preston for Vice-President. There is much genuine sentiment in favor of the nomination of Mayor Preston of Baltimore for vice-president. The local hospitality in doing much to boom the cause of Baltimore's chief executive.

MANY DASHED TO DEATH

Dock Gives Way and Throws Crowd Into River.

Hundreds of Men, Women and Children Struggle for Life in Swift Moving Niagara.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 24.—Under the weight of a large crowd of men, women and children a pier at Eagle Park, Grand Island, in the Niagara river, collapsed and between 150 and 200 persons were thrown into the water.

How many have been drowned is not known. Eight bodies have been recovered and parties are searching the river for others. In the excitement families were separated and the wildest confusion followed. It will be impossible to tell what the loss of life is until there has been account of those who were on the dock. Many persons have been reported missing and as usual in such disasters, many reported missing have turned up alive.

The occasion was the outing of Court Amherst of the I. O. O. F. The excursion left Buffalo on the steamboat Henry Koerber with a barge in tow. The excursionists who had spent the day at the island, which is 12 miles below the city on the Canadian side of the river, were on the pier awaiting the arrival of the steamboat to take them back home.

Solid As a Rock!

Here is the absolutely new anchoring device used only on the old reliable Saginaw Silo, which makes it as solid as one piece of granite—immovable as a mountain. It is our Handy Anchor Hoop, which circles the inside of the silo above the silage and directly opposite the top outside hoop. It supports any stave that might loosen and prevents them falling inward. Once in place, it needs no attention, no adjusting. Cables from anchoring points to ground rods complete support that dynamite could hardly move. No loose staves! No falling in! No blowing down! Write today for details. ### Good Breeding.

We see a world of pains taken, and the best years of life spent, in collecting a set of thoughts in a college for the conduct of life; and, after all, the man so qualified shall hesitate in his speech to a good suit of clothes and want common sense before an agreeable woman. Hence it is that wisdom, valor, justice and learning cannot keep a man in countenance that is possessed with these excellencies, if he wants that inferior art of life and behavior called good breeding.—Steele.

Farm for Sale.
